

Beyond Greece

Tuesday, June 19th, everybody was invited at the Feltrinelli library (via Orlando, in Rome), to discuss about the present situation: we are prisoners of Politicians who gave up their role in order to let the Bankers destroy us as “Nation”, as “State” and as “People”. They use just one weapon to do so: Finance. Friends Barbara Palombelli and Giordano Bruno Guerri presented my last book, entitled “Dopo l’Occidente” (“After the West”). I am convinced that quite soon nothing will remain of our Civilization, of the Italian, French and German civilizations, or of the civilizations of all the Peoples of Europe: they will be crushed by the invasions of Africans, Muslims and Chinese. And most of all they will be destroyed by the killing will of our Governors: the Bankers are its most effective and ruthless instrument.

However, the book was written with a secret and desperate hope: that what I foresee will not happen. That if we talk and discuss about the present situation, and if we put it before the eyes of everybody, someone will stand up and do something to hinder it. We would still be in time if tomorrow – not one day later – Italy only gives a signal of its rebellion against suicide; if Italy shows that it wants to keep its Identity, its Culture and its History. A long history during which – with great suffering and courage – the Italians were able to get rid of foreign dominance, be it the Pope’s or the Austrians’. At last we were free – do you understand it? How can we think to put the Italians back again under foreign rule?

And who could seriously believe that the Italians – and all European Peoples – would not die? Would die in their souls before dying in their properties and business? Today they look like ‘living dead’, they are being flogged and are the prisoners of some unknown Belgian or German bureaucrat. They are the subjects of a surreal Empire, which has been created artificially by few powerful persons who pursued the goal of Global government; to achieve it, they must necessarily destroy the Nations and the different Peoples. United Europe does not exist; it could exist only after the political and civil death of the Peoples, when the Bankers will finally rule over them in the name of money and currency. Today we have another proof of this: the Stock Market is going bad, even worse than usual.

The outcome of the Greek elections was considered a “pro-euro” decision. Therefore many people believed and hoped that the Stock Market would start to go up; now they are disappointed because this did not happen. However, the catastrophe caused by the European unification cannot be annulled by the last cry of submission that the victim is uttering when the executioner is tightening the rope around its neck. And Greeks actually had the rope around their neck. The Governors, Politicians and Bankers – who are exulting for this result – are now showing their true essence: they are disgusting usurers that not even Balzac would be able to describe properly.

But what is worst is that the Bankers are not only usurers. With the exception of those who piled up enormous wealth making millions of people broke, all other Bankers are not smart at all; they made enormous mistakes because of their greed, as is proven by the current crisis that we are enduring since 2008. Those same Bankers wrote the Maastricht Treaty - a masterpiece of ignorance and deceit – and created the common currency which lead us to disaster. This is why to have the Bankers governing Italy is something stupid and shameful. We must find a way to get rid of them. We want to discuss about this, looking at the “After the West” scenario , with a critical approach but also with a last little hope.
